GREAT WAVES OF NAZI PLANES CONTINUE DESTRUCTIVE DRIVES OVER BRITISH ISLES

LONDON IS OBJECTIVE OF BOMBING ARMADA SENT ACROSS CHANNEL

By The Associated Press
A terrific air battle over London was being fought this afternoon, authorized Nazis in Berlin said, with German planes raining bombs on London's outlying suburbs and clashing with British pursuit ships. White cable communication with London remained ominously silent regarding the air-raid, dispatches from Berlin said huge explosions from Nazi bombs were observed at Purfleet and Barking, in the British capital's densely-populated East End.
Big gun-powder factories are located at Purfleet.
An estimated 2,500 Nazi warplanes—twice as many as in yesterday's juggernaut smash at the island kingdom—were seen earlier speeding at great height across the English coast.
At 2 p. m., eastern daylight time, the Associated Press office in New York was still in contact with its London office, but it was apparent that censorship was preventing London from sending any news of today's fighting there.
Other messages came through with fair regularity, but at that time nothing regarding the air-raid had been received for two hours and 20 minutes.
The Dow-Jones ticker in New York said the London stock market closed during the air-raid, but later trading resumed and the market closed steady.
Authorized Nazis in Berlin said that a mighty fleet of German bombers headed for the British capital this afternoon, crossed the channel at 11:30 a. m., EST—and headed for their objectives.
The brief Berlin dispatch explained the mystery of an interrupted broadcast by a London radio, which gave the first indication that the metropolis with its teeming millions was being attacked.
The London broadcasting station GSV went off the air suddenly at 5:11 p. m. (London time).
NBC listeners in New York heard air raid alarm sirens screaming in the background of the program which was being broadcast at the time.
Then the air was silent—an ominous silence.
This coincided with a long break in the click-clack of the automatic telegraph machine bringing news direct from London to the offices of the Associated Press in New York, a machine that is seldom silent for more than a few minutes.
When London came through again at 11:30 a. m., EST, after a gap of 50 minutes, it was to transmit a story not connected with anything that might be happening in London, indicating rigorous censorship.
At 1 p. m., EST, the Associated Press offices in New York had not received from its London office a single dispatch describing today's fighting for one hour and 20 minutes.
Thundering new waves of Nazi raiders bombed the island kingdom from Scotland to Cornwall, with Hitler now beginning to reveal the long-hidden secret of his full aerial strength for the first time.
In some quarters it was considered possible that the Nazi fuchrer hoped to blast Britain into surrender without even sending troops across the channel for a land invasion.
Between 6,000 and 6,500 British and German planes were probably engaged in the terrific conflict. The British, with about 4,000 first-line defense planes, were believed certain to have thrown every available aircraft into action to stem the Nazi hurricane.
Great waves of Nazi warplanes—estimated as high as 2,500 fighters and bombers, twice as many as yesterday's all-time record assault—fashed across the English coast today and bombed the island kingdom from Scotland to Cornwall.
An Associated Press correspondent in a southeast coast town—apparently Dover—said he counted 400 planes at that single port, roaring across the channel in six waves at 5-minute intervals.
By mid-afternoon, the Germans were reported fanning out all over England in ever-increasing numbers.
DNE, the official German news agency, said "numerous waves" of bombers and fighters were flying over the Thames river, the high road to London, heading for north central England.
As the battle flared to heights apparently surpassing by far yesterday's titanic assault, 12 Nazi raiders were reported shot down.
A whole squadron of German fighting planes reportedly swept Dover with machine-gun bullets, while others sprayed bullets at balloon barges.
Still another mass flight carried out a three-hour attack on a south coast town, apparently England's great shipping port of Southampton, and engaged fierce-fighting RAF defense planes in a spectacular battle.
While German warplanes renewed the violent storm over Britain in heavy pre-dawn raids, British RAF bombers winged across the snow-capped Alps today to attack cities in northern Italy for the second time in three days.

BLAME ITALIANS FOR ATTACK ON GREEK CRUISERS

Athens, Aug. 16.—(P)—A high authority said here tonight the commanders of two Greek destroyers bombed by warplanes today had reported by radio to the navy ministry that the attacking planes were Italian.

Athens, Aug. 16.—(P)—The Greek destroyers Vasilefs Georgios I and Vasilefs Olga were attacked from the air today by "unknown" warplanes as they steamed toward the island of Tinos where the Greek cruiser Hele was torpedoed and sunk yesterday by an unidentified submarine.
The two destroyers, according to reports reaching Athens, escaped damage by zigzagging at full speed. They did not open fire on the planes.
The air attacks came amid mounting tension in the relations between Greece and Italy, following bitter Italian press campaign against the little kingdom.
Diplomatic observers expressed belief that the secret attacks left Greece virtually with an undecided war on her hands.

German Agricultural Experts Describe As "Average Good" Europe's Crop Prospects

Berlin, Aug. 16.—(P)—Europe's 1940 crop prospects were described as "average good" today by German agricultural experts, who said the Reich's food situation was excellent with record root crops (potatoes, beets, etc.) in the rationing system had greatly helped Germany to reduce cereal consumption, and declared there was absolutely no cause for worry since the Reich's grain supplies were still plentiful.
Figures were unavailable, it was said, because statistics on Germany's food supplies are regarded as a military secret.
The German experts declared that Britain would be to blame if her blockade caused grain shortages in countries formerly allied with her—France, Norway and the Lowlands, for instance.
These sources said that the Balkans would produce smaller grain surpluses than heretofore. "Non-war" Denmark, Sweden, Holland and Belgium will need imports of cereals as they always have, France, it was asserted, must look after her own needs; normally she is self-sufficing as far as grains are concerned, the Germans said.

Late Bulletins on European Situation

London, Aug. 16.—(P)—The chief censor late today permitted publication of the fact that German warplanes were flying high outside London this morning.

Berlin, Aug. 16.—(P)—Authorized German sources said this afternoon a mighty fleet of German bombers was on its way to London. These sources said the huge air fleet was heading for military objectives on the outskirts of the city and was not expected to bomb the center of the city.

New York, Aug. 16.—(P)—The London broadcasting station GSV went off the air at 11:11 a. m., EST, today, NBC reported, after the NBC listener heard air-raid alarm sirens in the background of the program then being broadcast.

Cairo, Aug. 16.—(P)—British aerial bombardment and machine-gun fire on Italian troop concentrations and communications lines in Somalia have slowed up the Fascist advance on Berbera, capital of the protectorate, the British reported today.

A Southeastern Town in England, Aug. 16.—(P)—Nazi warplanes flew over towns in various parts of southeastern England this afternoon.

Istanbul, Aug. 16.—(P)—The Turkish press hinted strongly today that any open Italian move against Greece may see this country immediately involved in fulfillment of the British-Turkish mutual assistance pact.

Number of Aircraft Skyrocketing Across English Channel Double That of Thursday

Associated Press Correspondent in Southeastern Town Reports Counting 400 Bombers Flying Inland in Single Group

BULLETS SPRAY CLIFF

BY H. TAYLOR HENRY
A town in southeastern England, Aug. 16.—(P)—A mighty armada of German planes is skyrocketing across the English coast today and military observers in this area estimated they were twice as numerous as in yesterday's 1,000-plane assault. Some put today's figure as high as 2,500.

I counted 400 planes over this English port alone in the vast armada and still they came.

The military observers based their calculations on unofficial reports that planes in equal numbers had roared across the coast at four or five other points.

I counted the planes, flying at 20,000 feet and coming in six distinct waves at roughly five-minute intervals.

One squadron singled out this port, downing two barrage balloons and spraying small demolition bombs along the cliff below where I was standing and machine-gunning the cliff itself.

One balloon known as "King Lear" crashed with its long cable down on three cottages at the base of the cliffs, setting fire to their roofs.

DEMO CAMPAIGN IN THIS STATE STARTS SEPT. 10

Harrisburg, Aug. 16.—(P)—Democrats of Pennsylvania today fixed Tuesday, September 10, for the start of their November campaign.

From that day on, leaders said, stumping candidates will carry "into every hamlet and city" the record of the present Republican state regime.

Strategy for the campaign was adopted in a four-hour session of party chieftains yesterday in the state committee headquarters.

A group of five went to Washington today to turn over to President Roosevelt the list of 36 presidential electors in this state.

Campaign Manager Luther A. Harr said they carried a message that the president, in their belief, would win Pennsylvania over Wendell L. Willkie by a big majority.

In the group were U. S. Senator Joseph F. Guffey, Harr, State Chairman Meredith Meyers, Paul Levis, secretary of the state committee, and David L. Lawrence, national committee man.

Guffey and Harr said last night, that they "certainly will not ignore the mistakes and the miserable failure of the James administration" in their campaign.

Harr said in a statement: "We will meet the opposition not only on the wonderful record of the national Democratic administration but also on the horrible record of misgovernment of the present state Republican administration."

Harr announced the finance committee would meet here Aug. 22 to discuss fund-raising methods. It is headed by Henry W. Broecker, of Bellefonte, who also is treasurer of the state committee.

Deputy Sheriff at Waynesburg Declines to Divulge His Theory of Motive That Caused Female Bandits to Shoot Wife of Friend

CRIME IS RE-ENACTED

Waynesburg, Aug. 16.—(P)—Sheriff Henry W. Flowers said today the investigation of the "fake holdup" shooting of Mrs. Ada Hubb Headley, 44, was complete and termed it "one of the worst crimes in the history of Greene county."
Flowers said no charges would be brought against Robert Headley, 49-year-old husband of the victim, until Monday when a hearing will be held for two women accused of disguising themselves as men and shooting Mrs. Headley five times during the fake holdup.

Waynesburg, Aug. 16.—(P)—Deputy Sheriff Jack Orndoff declined today to divulge his theory of the motive for the "fake holdup" shooting of Mrs. Ada Hubb Headley, 44, until officials complete their investigation of the strange case.

For the second day deputies and State Motor Police questioned the woman's 49-year-old husband, Robert, worker in a natural gas field, who stoutly denied knowledge of any plot to kill his wife. He claimed she was shot by three men who "robbed me of between $30 and $40 and drove off in my car."

FIX BLAME FOR MINE DISASTER

Portage, Aug. 16.—(P)—A commoner's jury verdict blaming a mining system failure and negligence of officials for the death of 63 men in the Seneca coal mine disaster brought forward today the possibility of prosecution of those responsible.

Richard Maize, deputy secretary of the State Department of Mines, said the department would take up the question of prosecution in connection with the jury's finding last night.

The jury said the July 15 explosion was "superinduced by the failure of the system of mining and the negligence of officials directly in charge of the mine management."

It named the following officials: Superintendent Victor Duras, Foreman L. L. Steele and Assistant Foreman Roy Wain.
The jurors, three miners, a mine foreman and a merchant, also recommended the adoption of "furtherance of recommendations" submitted by a board of state mine inspectors that investigated the accident.

SHIPS FOR BRITAIN QUESTION IS UP AGAIN

BULLETIN

Washington, Aug. 16.—(P)—President Roosevelt announced today that the United States is "holding conversations" with Great Britain on acquisition of naval and air bases by the United States "with special reference to the Panama Canal." The chief executive made the announcement at his press conference but cautioned reporters repeatedly not to tie it up with any speculation about the release of American destroyers to Great Britain. "The United States government is carrying on conversations with the Canadian government looking toward defense of the American hemisphere," Mr. Roosevelt did not go into details on either of his announcements.

Washington, Aug. 16.—(P)—Overwhelming House approval of the National Guard mobilization bill all but cleared the way today for the calling of an estimated 398,000 men to the colors for a year's active service.

Its passage by a 342 to 23 vote, late yesterday left progressive mobilization of the Guard and reserves only two steps short of actuality—the Senate must first concur in some minor changes in the legislation it previously approved, and then President Roosevelt must sign it.

The army meanwhile marked time, with plans ready to call up the first contingent of 55,000 Guardsmen September 15, and reports from war game areas where the militia is now training said the weeding out of physically unfit already was under way in the units to be summoned first.

As the mobilization measure moved through final legislation stages, "destroyers-for-Britain" issue bobbed back into capital limelight amid a flurry of reports that Great Britain had offered to lease (Turn to Page Eleven)

28TH IN FIERCE MOCK CONFLICT

Lisbon, N. Y., Aug. 16.—(P)—Winning up a two-day "battle" between the states, Pennsylvania's weak National Guardmen turned back toward their permanent camps today for a week-end of rest and tactics by visiting militia.

After two nights in the field sleeping in pup tents or on such campnaps as they could, both officers and men looked forward to a brief respite before the start of major maneuvers next week.

For the maneuvers of the past two days, the Pennsylvania troops of the 28th Division were pitted against "invaders" from the 29th Division (Maryland, Virginia and District of Columbia).
Fiercest of the mock fighting came yesterday, when infantrymen from Virginia met Pennsylvania's crack regiments along a "front" several miles long. They met on high ground, and theoretically casualties were heavy.
Over the week-end, both Governor James and President Roosevelt are expected to visit the maneuvers area. The governor is scheduled to review the Pennsylvania troops Sunday.

RELIEF ROLLS REDUCED BY 154,000 PERSONS

Harrisburg, Aug. 16.—(P)—Pennsylvania's job mobilization committee reported today it found work for approximately 100,000 unemployed and stimulated an estimated $180,000,000 in new business for 1940 through a cooperative state-wide re-employment drive.
The committee, headed by Walter D. Fuller, Philadelphia publisher, said it enlisted the efforts of more than 10,000 volunteer workers in a campaign for more jobs in individual communities.
It pointed out that during the five and one-half month interval of the job-getting drive, the state's relief rolls were reduced by 154,000 persons, and the monthly relief bill dropped $1,500,000.
The campaign, described as "non-partisan," was started in November, 1939.
In a final report to Governor Arthur H. James, the committee said: "An estimated $100,000,000 in new construction and plant maintenance work was developed; probably $30,000,000 additional in home modernization was encouraged; many localities succeeded in reopening mines and factories while others obtained new industries, and the groundwork was laid for (Turn to Page Eleven)

Hines shared the day's speaking program with Governor James.

In an address yesterday, Department Adjutant Edward A. Linsky, of Philadelphia, told the convention "we have definite advice concerning the Fifth Column movement in Pennsylvania" and added there had been "from 50 to 100 complaints of attempted sabotage in the state."

Conscription is "imperative to the nation's safety," said State Commander Edward R. Stirling. He described as "tomorrow" suggestions for building up the army through voluntary enlistments.

At Least 35 Dead and Several Missing in Floods in Low Appalachian Mountain Areas

By The Associated Press
Rising rivers and creeks brought flood threats today to western and southside Virginia as receding streams in the lower Appalachian Mountain areas left a total of at least 35 dead several missing, a score injured and millions of dollars of property damage.

The James river was expected to reach a crest of 19 to 20 feet late today at Richmond Va. Flood stages is from 8 to 10 feet. Five inches of rain fell in the Richmond area in a 26-hour period.

Flooded streams halted traffic in southside Virginia and yesterday reached crests not exceeded in 50 years. The Dan river reached 20.5 feet at Danville Va., the highest in 50 years. The rising Appomattox river brought the first threat of serious flood damage at Petersburg, Va., since 1908.
Recession of "flash" floods in western North Carolina, following heavy rains, disclosed a huge death toll.
Deaths by states were: North Carolina, 21; East Tennessee, 5; Virginia, 3; and Georgia, 4.
Waters, rolling seaward, brought flood threats in the plateau and coastal plain sections of the Carolinas. The rising Tennessee river forced families from low-lying parts of Knoxville, Tenn. Officials studied the advisability of evacuating hundreds of convicts at the California prison farm in eastern North Carolina as the swollen Roanoke river impended a nine-mile dike.

FIX BLAME FOR MINE DISASTER

Portage, Aug. 16.—(P)—A coroner's jury verdict blaming a mining system failure and negligence of officials for the death of 63 men in the Sonman coal mine disaster brought forward today the possibility of prosecution of those responsible.

Richard Maize, deputy secretary of the State Department of Mines, said the department would take up the question of prosecution in connection with the jury's finding last night.

The jury said the July 15 explosion was "superinduced by the failure of the system of mining and the negligence of officials directly in charge of the mine management."

It named the following officials: Superintendent Victor Duras, Foreman L. L. Steele and Assistant Foreman Roy Wahl.

The jurors—three miners, a mine foreman and a merchant—also recommended the adoption and "furtherance of recommendations" submitted by a board of state mine inspectors that investigated the accident.

SHIPS FOR BRITAIN QUESTION IS UP AGAIN

BULLETIN

Washington, Aug. 16.—(P)—President Roosevelt announced today that the United States is "holding conversations" with Great Britain on acquisition of naval and air bases by the United States "with special reference to the Panama Canal."

The chief executive made the announcement at his press conference but cautioned reporters repeatedly not to tie it up with any speculation about the release of American destroyers to Great Britain.

The United States government is carrying on conversations with the Canadian government looking toward defense of the American hemisphere," Mr. Roosevelt did not go into details on either of his announcements.

Washington, Aug. 16.—(P)—Overwhelming House approval of the National Guard mobilization bill all but cleared the way today for the calling of an estimated 396,000 men to the colors for a year's active service.

Its passage by a 342 to 33 vote late yesterday left progressive mobilization of the Guard and reserves only two steps short of actuality—the Senate must first concur in some minor changes in the legislation it previously approved, and then President Roosevelt must sign it.

The army meanwhile marked time, with plans ready to call up the first contingent of 55,000 Guardsmen September 15, and reports from war game areas where the militia is now training said the weeding out of physically unfit already was under way in the units to be summoned first.

As the mobilization measure moved through final legislation stages, the "destroyers-for-Britain" issue bobbed back into capital limelight amid a flurry of reports that Great Britain had offered to lease (Turn to Page Eleven)

NEW JOBS FOUND FOR 100,000

Pennsylvania's Re-employment Campaign Committee in Report to Governor States That Drive Not Only Placed That Many Back to Work But Stimulated Estimated $180,000,000 in Added Business for the Present Year

RELIEF ROLLS REDUCED BY 154,000 PERSONS

Harrisburg, Aug. 16.—(P)—Pennsylvania's job mobilization committee reported today it found work for approximately 100,000 unemployed and stimulated an estimated $180,000,000 in new business for 1940 through a cooperative state-wide re-employment drive.

The committee, headed by Walter D. Fuller, Philadelphia publisher, said it enlisted the efforts of more than 10,000 volunteer workers in a campaign for more jobs in individual communities.

It pointed out that during the five and one-half month interval of the job-getting drive, the state's relief rolls were reduced by 154,000 persons, and the monthly relief bill dropped $1,500,000.

The campaign, described as "non-partisan," was started in November, 1939.

In a final report to Governor Arthur H. James, the committee said:

"An estimated $100,000,000 in new construction and plant maintenance work was developed; probably $80,000,000 additional in home modernization was encouraged;

many localities succeeded in reopening mines and factories while others obtained new industries and the groundwork was laid for (Turn to Page Eleven)

HINES SPEAKS AT LEGION MEETING

Reading, Aug. 16.—(P)—Brigadier General Frank T. Hines, administrator of veterans affairs, urged the Pennsylvania Department of the American Legion today to present a "solid front" in support of national defense and not to tolerate Fifth Column activities in the United States.

Hines shared the day's speaking program with Governor James.

In an address yesterday, Department Adjutant Edward A. Linsky, of Philadelphia, told the convention "we have definite advice concerning the Fifth Column movement in Pennsylvania" and added there had been "from 50 to 100 complaints of attempted sabotage in the state."

Conscription is "imperative to the nation's safety," said State Commander Edward R. Stirling. He described as "tommyrot" suggestions for building up the army through voluntary enlistments.

NUMBER DEAD IN AN EXPLOSION IN WEST

Joplin, Mo., Aug. 16.—(P)—Five or six men were reported killed this morning in an explosion at the Atlas powder plant six miles east of Joplin.

The blast occurred in the dynamite unit of the plant which has been working near capacity because of war orders.

First reports indicated the explosions did not strike the new T. N. T. plant, built on the same reservation since the outbreak of the European war.

At least 35 Dead and Several Missing in Floods in Low Appalachian Mountain Areas

By The Associated Press

Rising rivers and creeks brought flood threats today to western and southside Virginia as receding streams in the lower Appalachian Mountain areas left a total of at least 35 dead, several missing, a score injured and millions of dollars of property damage.

The James river was expected to reach a crest of 19 to 20 feet late today at Richmond, Va. Flood stage is from 8 to 10 feet. Five inches of rain fell in the Richmond area in a 36-hour period.

Flooded streams halted traffic in southside Virginia and yesterday reached crests not exceeded in 50 years. The Dan river reached 20.5 feet at Danville, Va., the highest in 50 years. The rising Appomattox river brought the first threat of serious flood damage at Petersburg, Va., since 1905.

Recession of "flash" floods in western North Carolina, following heavy rains, disclosed a huge death toll.

Deaths by states were: North Carolina, 21; East Tennessee, 5; Virginia, 5; and Georgia, 4.

Waters, rolling seaward, brought flood threats in the plateau and coastal plain sections of the Carolinas. The rising Tennessee river forced families from low-lying parts of Knoxville, Tenn. Officials studied the advisability of evacuating hundreds of convicts at the Caledonia prison farm in eastern North Carolina as the swollen Roanoke river imperiled a nine-mile dyke.

COMMUNITY FAIR AT YOUNGSVILLE TO BE BIGGEST

According to plans just released, the Youngsville Community Fair this year promises to be the best thus far offered to the people of Warren county. Advance interest being shown in it indicates a record display of products of the county and bigger and better entertainment.

The Youngsville horse show always has been the most popular one in this section of the state, as proved by the large entry list of fine horses from far and wide. This year finds the list of entries and events so large that it has become necessary to run part of the show on Friday night, in addition to the Saturday afternoon and evening performances.

Present plans also indicate the largest dog show that has been put on in this section. This show has grown into the major dog show of the country and covers all breeds of dogs. The committee states that there will be a number of rare breeds shown this year, in addition to the large number of the various sporting types and non-sporting house dogs.

The usual team pulling contest on Friday afternoon will again be held with the best teams of the state competing. The state champions that were present last year are expected to return. The local teams gave this team a run for their money last year.

With continued good growing weather, the display of produce of the county will be larger than ever, as more entries are being made each year from the surrounding territory.

King George made the presentation at a private audience granted the widow.

PHC OUTING AT WILDCAT PARK IS ANTICIPATED

Both senior and junior members of the Protected Home Circle, with their families, are anticipating the annual all-day picnic to be held at Wildcat Park at Ludlow on Sunday.

The picnic dinner will take place about 12:30 o'clock and a committee will present a program of sports and contests in mid-afternoon for the entertainment of old and young.

Yesterday afternoon at four o'clock, 32 junior members gathered at Warr-Penn Park for an outing. Lucille Morrison, junior president, was in charge of the sports program, which resulted in the following winners: Emily Jane Conroy, Mona Jean Brooks, Phillip Covin, Barbara Taft, Kendall Morrison, Frank Marlett and Jean Marlett. All enjoyed the wieners roast which concluded the program.

The senior members held their regular meeting last evening, followed by a program of entertainment arranged by Mrs. Clara Campbell and her committee. The final feature was the serving of refreshments.

Next Thursday evening, members will have a severe o'clock business meeting and a series of games open to the public, with play starting at eight o'clock.

Wife of Sheffield Resident Is Selected to Cook For Willkie

Sheffield, Aug. 16.—Mrs. Thelma Sanford, wife of Leo Sanford, a shift foreman at the Pennsylvania Bottle Company factory here, has been chosen to cook the meals for Republican presidential candidate Wendell Willkie and family during their visit to Elwood, Indiana, Saturday, when Willkie will return to that city, his home town, to deliver a speech formally accepting the nomination.

Mrs. Sanford will preside as chief cook at the Elwood Hotel, where meals will be served and which will be the official headquarters of the presidential nominee and entourage during his visit to the Indiana city.

The Sanfords, who came to Sheffield from Elwood three years ago, are natives of Willkie's home town and are acquainted with the presidential candidate and other members of the Willkie family. Mr. Sanford said here last evening.

Mrs. Sanford this spring returned to Indiana to undergo an operation and is remaining there until fall, assisting her stepson, Tom Sanford, who played on Sheffield High School football and basketball teams a couple of seasons, with the management of a small farm the family owns there.

The selection of Mrs. Sanford as Willkie's cook for Willkie Day, as the community event celebrating the return of Elwood's most illustrious son has been officially designated, was announced in a streamer headline and an article on the front page of the Call-Leader, Elwood's daily newspaper, which is prominently identified with the celebration and which for days has, naturally, been filled with stories about the event.

Besides the Sanfords, other natives of Willkie's home town who now reside in Sheffield are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Aldred, Mr. Aldred, like Mr. Sanford, being an employee of the local glass factory.

Work will be started in the very near future on an extension of the furnace shop building of the Pennsylvania Furnace and Iron Company, Pine street, it was announced today by an official of the company. The extension is to provide additional room for furnaces and boilers, but will not affect the number of employees, it was stated.

The company recently purchased the property of the Wills estate adjoining the plant on Pennsylvania avenue and Pine street. It was stated that this was obtained for possible future expansion of the plant, although no immediate building plans are in prospect other than the furnace shop extension.

COMMUNITY FAIR AT YOUNGSVILLE TO BE BIGGEST

According to plans just released, the Youngsville Community Fair this year promises to be the best thus far offered to the people of Warren county. Advance interest being shown in it indicates a record display of products of the county and bigger and better entertainment.

The Youngsville horse show always has been the most popular one in this section of the state, as proved by the large entry list of fine horses from far and wide. This year finds the list of entries and events so large that it has become necessary to run part of the show on Friday night, in addition to the Saturday afternoon and evening performances.

Present plans also indicate the largest dog show that has been put on in this section. This show has grown into the major dog show of the country and covers all breeds of dogs. The committee states that there will be a number of rare breeds shown this year, in addition to the large number of the various sporting types and non-sporting house dogs.

The usual team pulling contest on Friday afternoon will again be held with the best teams of the state competing. The state champions that were present last year are expected to return. The local teams gave this team a run for their money last year.

With continued good growing weather, the display of produce of the county will be larger than ever, as more entries are being made each year from the surrounding territory.

Her Daddy Died a Hero

When eight-months-old Carol Nichols grows up, she will look with mingled pride and sadness at this picture. For, seated on her mother's lap, she wears the Victoria Cross, posthumously awarded to her father for "most conspicuous gallantry" with Britain's Grenadier Guards during the evacuation of Dunkirk. King George made the presentation at a private audience granted the widow.

PHC OUTING AT WILDCAT PARK IS ANTICIPATED

Both senior and junior members of the Protected Home Circle, with their families, are anticipating the annual all-day picnic to be held at Wildcat Park at Ludlow on Sunday.

The picnic dinner will take place about 12:30 o'clock and a committee will present a program of sports and contests in mid-afternoon for the entertainment of old and young.

Yesterday afternoon at four o'clock, 32 junior members gathered at Warr-Penn Park for an outing. Lucille Morrison, junior president, was in charge of the sports program, which resulted in the following winners: Emily Jane Conroy, Mona Jean Brooks, Phillip Covin, Barbara Taft, Kendall Morrison, Frank Marlett and Jean Marlett. All enjoyed the wiener roast which concluded the program.

The senior members held their regular meeting last evening, followed by a program of entertainment arranged by Mrs. Clara Campbell and her committee. The final feature was the serving of refreshments.

Next Thursday evening, members will have a seven o'clock business meeting and a series of games open to the public, with play starting at eight o'clock.

MYSTERY SOLVED

York—(P)—Badly charred timbers found by workmen while installing a heating plant in the Noell school building caused school officials to wonder whether there had been a smoldering fire that had gone out without attracting attention. FIRST DAYS IN SCHOOL

In an announcement printed on page nine of Thursday's issue, Superintendent John G. Rossman not only calls attention to the fact that the public schools of the borough will open for the fall and winter term Tuesday, September 3, but furnishes information that should be very helpful to parents of children who will be returning to their classes at that time.

Special attention is called to the fact that all children who are six years of age on Tuesday, September 3, or who will become six years of age before February 1, 1941, may enter the first grade next month.

A child's first days in school are all-important in fixing his attitude toward education. Out of his years of experience, Dr. J. B. Bilderback, of Portland, Oregon, president of the American Academy of Pediatrics, an association of 1300 doctors specializing in child care in the United States and Canada, has written an authoritative article for NEA Service and the Times-Mirror which is particularly appropriate at this time.

"Until the child enters school he spends most of his time at home, his world is limited, comprised largely of his immediate family," Dr. Bilderback says. "Now at five or six he is placed in strange surroundings, among new people and must conform to unfamiliar rules.

"It is no wonder that the first day of school causes the child to feel confused, alone, and abandoned. Parents can, during the weeks preceding school, build up a child's self-reliance and give him a feeling of adventure in this coming experience. The pleasure of making new friends, of learning to read, and of playing new games may be stressed.

"It would give the child a feeling of confidence if he were taken to the school building and play grounds before the opening day. He could be taught to cross a busy street, and if at all possible, he should learn to know at least one or two other children who will be in his class.

"Allow him to help select his new school clothing and on the opening day the mother should see that he is neat and clean and dressed like other children. No child likes to appear different—the nearer he can look like other children the more at home he will feel.

"He should know how to put on and take off his outer clothing and otherwise care for his possessions. This often saves a child considerable difficulty.

"Last but not least, the child should be sent off to school in a peaceful, happy frame of mind. There should be no tearful good-byes or unkind, warning words ringing in his ears—instead he needs an understanding, patient parent to help him interpret this new world.

"No child ought to begin school until he has had a physical examination to ascertain if he has good posture, if he has good muscle tone, if his feet are flat, if his heart is normal or if he has a latent tuberculosis.

"Many times when a child has not been doing well in school, it is found that he is partially deaf or that he does not see well. He has gone to school with this handicap and has done his very best although often severely criticized by the teacher and his family for his inability to keep up with the other members of his class.

"If a child has been examined by a competent physician and found in good health and has been prepared by his parents as to what to expect on his first day at school, it will be the means of giving him the proper start on what might otherwise be a strange and lonely road."

Elwood, Ind., tomorrow takes the place in the spotlight held four years ago by West Middlesex, Mercer county.

Now is a good time to start developing plans for an ice skating rink next winter.

Now we'll see what we may expect from Wilkie in the way of oratory!

Washington, Aug. 16.—The anti-trust division of the Department of Justice will decide soon whether charges against ASCAP make a civil or a criminal case.

The contract by virtue of which the American Society of Composers and Publishers collects royalties on radio broadcasts of music, expires the end of the year. The National Association of Broadcasters, to which more than half the broadcasting stations in the United States belong, has set up its own million dollar publishing business in protest against ASCAP terms.

NAB officials say its members are willing to pay ASCAP a certain amount for each piece of ASCAP controlled music broadcast, but that they object to paying a percentage of their gross income.

Broadcast Music, Inc., the broadcasters' new publishing set-up, will buy new music and use music which belongs to the public domain. Stephen Foster's for example. Independent broadcasters may renew their contract with ASCAP, unless in the meantime the Department of Justice settles the fate of radio audiences by deciding that ASCAP in protecting the interests of its composer and publisher members violates the Sherman act and must change its ways.

ASCAP will feel the departure of John Garner from Washington, D.C., a close friend of Gene Buck, head of ASCAP. Buck staged an annual party for Garner which was usually the talk of the town for weeks. But Buck's friend is with his bantam chickens in Texas and it's up to the head of ASCAP to get out and make new friends fast.

Congressman Marvin Jones was rewarded for faithful service to the administration with an appointment to the U. S. Court of Claims in the District of Columbia. The appointment was made in early spring and Mr. Jones told his constituents he would not run for reelection. They have had the first primary in Texas and the two leading candidates for Congressman Jones' job will fight it out at the polls August 24.

But in the meantime, the administration has urged Congressman Jones to continue as chairman of the House Committee on Agriculture instead of stepping up to the bench. The judgeship will be held open for him indefinitely. It is conceivable that if the President should ask Mr. Jones to succeed Henry A. Wallace as secretary of agriculture, the congressman might fill in there until the November elections, then claim his seat on the bench if Wilkie wins.

Despite evidence that defense purchases are spreading unemployment, the number of unemployed on relief is on the increase. In the last week of June, WPA rolls carried 5400 fewer than in the week previous; the last week of July there was a gain of 10,000. WPA is carrying its maximum authorized load of more than 1,700,000 at the present time.

"Gasoline and Alcohol Do Not Mix," is axiomatic enough to serve as a highway safety slogan in America. . . not so in China.

China has a gasoline shortage, and since 1937 all but military vehicles have been running on alcohol or a gasoline-alcohol mixture. A twenty million dollar industry has grown up there to meet the demand for synthetic motor fuel.

STORIES IN STAMPS

Rumania Pioneered In Semi-Postal Issues

ONE of the early semi-postal stamps was the Rumanian stamp above, picturing Queen Elizabeth ministering to a wounded soldier. The message below the central design, written by the queen, reads: "Wounds are dressed and tears wiped away." The stamp was one of a series of four designs and 16 values, issued in 1906.

Charity semi-postals are one of philately's most common items today. Rumania issued 22 extra-charge stamps for various purposes during 1939. A total of 380 semi-postals were issued by 55 countries during the past year.

Approximately 4400 semi-postals have been released. Neither Great Britain nor United States has issued such stamps. The American Red Cross was honored by a regular 3-cent stamp in 1931.

Although the first semi-postals were issued for charitable purposes, proceeds from stamp sales are now devoted to almost any government-approved cause.

FIRST DAYS IN SCHOOL

In an announcement printed on page nine of Thursday's issue, Superintendent John G. Rossman not only calls attention to the fact that the public schools of the borough will open for the fall and winter term Tuesday, September 3, but furnishes information that should be very helpful to parents of children who will be returning to their classes at that time.

Special attention is called to the fact that all children who are six years of age on Tuesday, September 3, or who will become six years of age before February 1, 1941, may enter the first grade next month.

A child's first days in school are all-important in fixing his attitude toward education. Out of his years of experience, Dr. J. B. Bilderback, of Portland, Oregon, president of the American Academy of Pediatrics, an association of 1300 doctors specializing in child care in the United States and Canada, has written an authoritative article for NEA Service and the Times-Mirror which is particularly appropriate at this time.

"Until the child enters school he spends most of his time at home, his world is limited, comprised largely of his immediate family," Dr. Bilderback says.
"Now at five or six he is placed in strange surroundings, among new people and must conform to unfamiliar rules.

"It is no wonder that the first day of school causes the child to feel confused, alone, and abandoned. Parents can, during the weeks preceding school, build up a child's self-reliance and give him a feeling of adventure in this coming experience. The pleasure of making new friends, of learning to read, and of playing new games may be stressed.

"It would give the child a feeling of confidence if he were taken to the school building and play grounds before the opening day. He could be taught to cross a busy street, and if at all possible, he should learn to know at least one or two other children who will be in his class.

"Allow him to help select his new school clothing and on the opening day the mother should see that he is neat and clean and dressed like other children. No child likes to appear different—the nearer he can look like other children the more at home he will feel.

"He should know how to put on and take off his outer clothing and otherwise care for his possessions.
This often saves a child considerable difficulty.

"Last but not least, the child should be sent off to school in a peaceful, happy frame of mind. There should be no tearful good-byes or unkind, warning words ringing in his ears—instead he needs an understanding, patient parent to help him interpret this new world.

"No child ought to begin school until he has had a physical examination to ascertain if he has good posture, if he has good muscle tone, if his feet are flat, if his heart is normal or if he has a latent tuberculosis.

"Many times when a child has not been doing well in school, it is found that he is partially deaf or that he does not see well. He has gone to school with this handicap and has done his very best although often severely criticized by the teacher and his family for his inability to keep up with the other members of his class.

"If a child has been examined by a competent physician and found in good health and has been prepared by his parents as to what to expect on his first day at school, it will be the means of giving him the proper start on what might otherwise be a strange and lonely road."

Elwood, Ind., tomorrow takes the place in the spotlight held four years ago by West Middlesex, Mercer county.

Now is a good time to start developing plans for an ice skating rink next winter.

Now we'll see what we may expect from Wilkie in the way of oratory!

O, Lord, though our iniquities testify against us, do thou it for thy name's sake; for our backslidings are many; we have sinned against

ASCAP QUARREL IN HIGH PLACES; JONES HAS JOB WHOEVER WINS

While Bruce Catton vacations, other members of NEA Service, Washington staff pinch-hit for him.

BY GERRY DICK

NEA Service Staff Correspondent
Washington, Aug. 16.—The anti-trust division of the Department of Justice will decide soon whether charges against ASCAP make a civil or a criminal case.

The contract, by virtue of which the American Society of Composers and Publishers collects royalties on radio broadcasts of music, expires the end of the year. The National Association of Broadcasters, to which more than half the broadcasting stations in the United States belong, has set up its own million dollar publishing business in protest against ASCAP terms.

NAB officials say its members are willing to pay ASCAP a certain amount for each piece of ASCAP controlled music broadcast, but that they object to paying a percentage of their gross income.

Broadcast Music, Inc., the broadcasters' new publishing set-up, will buy new music and use music which belongs to the public domain... Stephen Foster's for example. Independent broadcasters may renew their contract with ASCAP, unless in the meantime the Department of Justice settles the fate of radio audiences by deciding that ASCAP in protecting the interests of its composer and publisher members violates the Sherman act and must change its ways.

ASCAP will feel the departure of John Garner from Washington keenly. Garner was a close friend of Gene Buck, head of ASCAP. Buck staged an annual party for Garner which was usually the talk of the town for weeks. But Buck's friend is with his bantam chickens in Texas and it's up to the head of ASCAP to get out and make new friends fast.

Congressman Marvin Jones was rewarded for faithful service to the administration with an appointment to the U. S. Court of Claims in the District of Columbia. The appointment was made in early spring and Mr. Jones told his constituents he would not run for reelection. They have had the first primary in Texas and the two leading candidates for Congressman Jones' job will fight it out at the polls August 24.

But in the meantime, the administration has urged Congressman Jones to continue as chairman of the House Committee on Agriculture instead of stepping up to the bench. The judgeship will be held open for him indefinitely. It is even conceivable that if the President should ask Mr. Jones to succeed Henry A. Wallace as secretary of agriculture, the congressman might fill in there until the November elections, then claim his seat on the bench if Wilkie wins.

Despite evidence that defense purchases are spreading employment, the number of unemployed on relief is on the increase. In the last week of June, WPA rolls carried 54,000 fewer than in the week previous; the last week of July there was a gain of 10,000. WPA is carrying its maximum authorized load of more than 1,700,000 at the present time.

"Gasoline and Alcohol Do Not Mix," is axiomatic enough to serve as a highway safety slogan in America... not so in China.

China has a gasoline shortage, and since 1937 all but military vehicles have been running on alcohol or a gasoline-alcohol mixture. A twenty million dollar industry has grown up there to meet the demand for synthetic motor fuel.

STORIES IN STAMPS

Rumania Pioneered In Semi-Postal Issues

ONE of the early semi-postal stamps was the Rumanian stamp above, picturing Queen Elizabeth ministering to a wounded soldier. The message below the central design, written by the queen, reads: "Wounds are dressed and tears wiped away." The stamp was one of a series of four designs and 16 values, issued in 1906.

Charity semi-postals are one of philately's most common items today. Rumania issued 22 extra-charge stamps for various purposes during 1939. A total of 380 semi-postals were issued by 55 countries during the past year.

Approximately 4400 semi-postals have been released. Neither Great Britain nor United States has issued such stamps. The American Red Cross was honored by a regular 3-cent stamp in 1931.

Although the first semi-postals were issued for charitable purposes, proceeds from stamp sales are now devoted to almost any government-approved cause.

Members of First Baptist Church Here Await Arrival of New Pastor

Members of the First Baptist church here are looking forward to the arrival during the first week in September of their new pastor, the Rev. James Allie Davidson, who is at present pastor of the Knoxville Baptist church, Pittsburgh. Rev. Davidson recently accepted a call to the local church and will preach his first sermon on Sunday, September 8. He will reside at 112 West Fifth avenue.

He was born in Dallas county, Texas, in 1908. He was graduated from Baylor University, Waco, Texas, in 1930 with the degree of bachelor of arts. He then went to Andrew Newton Theological School at Boston, Mass., from which he was graduated in 1933 with the degree of bachelor of divinity.

In June, 1933, Mr. Davidson married Miss Elizabeth Beck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Foster Beck, of Pittsburgh. Mr. Beck is a past president of the Pennsylvania Baptist Convention. Shortly after their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Davidson sailed for Oxford, England, where Mr. Davidson did special graduate work at Mansfield and Regent's Park Colleges, Oxford University. Andover Newton awarded him the degree of master of sacred theology in 1936 for the work done at Oxford.

During their visit abroad, Mr. and Mrs. Davidson made a 1600-mile bicycle trip through England, Holland, France, Germany and Belgium.

In 1938 Mr. Davidson spent two months in the Mediterranean countries, visiting 22 countries around the Mediterranean sea, including Egypt and the Holy Land. He took many movies in natural color, upon which he has lectured extensively since his return.

Mr. Davidson will receive the degree of doctor of philosophy from the University of Pittsburgh in June, 1941.

Mr. and Mrs. Davidson have two boys, David Beck, who is three years of age, and James Porter, who is two.

Mrs. Davidson is a Pittsburgher by birth and was graduated from Denison University in 1930. She also took theological work at Andover Newton Theological School in Boston. She was for some time a missionary to the mountain people of Kentucky.

Mr. Davidson began his pastorate at the Knoxville Baptist church upon his return to America in 1934, which position he resigns as he comes here in September. During the six years of his ministry at the Knoxville Baptist church, one hundred members have been added to the church, an extensive remodeling project has been completed and a successful financial campaign projected to pay for the work.

The Throwback
CONSTANCE CABRILLO KNEW something unusual was underway the very moment Lamson opened the street door. The butler's carefully acquired mask of British indifference had slipped, revealing a frankly Irish twinkle in his eyes.

"Lammy," the girl accused, "you look as though you'd been paid your back wages."

"You've paid them back to '31, Miss Constance," he reproached, "and if you'll pardon my saying so, you look happy yourself."

"I am! Bruce MacDonald put his John Henry on the dotted line at four o'clock."

"Congratulations. That was the business property deal?"

"Lammy, you're a man of vision. MacDonald said I was selling him a cow pasture. Now, it's your turn. Come on, what's up?"

The British mask jerked into place, and at Miss Cabrillo's "out with it—" he began scattering his aitches about in agitation.

"Hi, really couldn't say. Hi's about money. Thousands. Master Don says we will soon 'ave nothing to worry 'bout."

Constance sighed wearily. "The last time he backed a horse, I hocked my car. What else?"

"Mrs. Cabrillo wishes you to come to the library at once, Mr. Raskthorne is calling. And—there is a person waiting for you in the solarium."

"A person?"

"A man 'a'bout a bill."

"That sounds more natural," approved Constance, and walked to a hall mirror.

A man-about-a-bill called for a hat pulled to a defiant angle, blue-black hair pushed severely under the brim. It called for a fresh flame of scarlet over mutinous lips, and the narrowing of blue eyes which had softened momentarily during the tete-a-tete with Lamson. Lamson who had been everything from nurse-maid to exchequer for the Cabrillos during his twenty years of service.

Constance walked briskly to the arch of the solarium and stopped short. "Just what are you doing here?" she demanded.

A plump young salesman arose from a chair. "You said you couldn't talk to me at your office," he defended.

"Nor any other place," added Constance.

"But Miss Cabrillo. You have the reputation of being a keen business woman. Now your brother has invested four hundred dollars in his car. He's been unable to keep up his payments. Instead of the Cabrillos losing that investment, we are willing to accept your business coupe at present list price, reducing the total amount of the indebtedness which we will arrange for you to meet in small monthly payments."

"What am I supposed to do, buy a pair of roller skates?"

"But Miss Cabrillo, you would then be the owner of an imported special—"

"Listen," flashed Constance. "I sell real estate. If I took my clients out in that four-wheeled night club, they'd expect me to go into a bubble-dance. The answer is NO!"

Defeated, the man arose. "Okay, if you Cabrillos can afford to lose the investment."

Constance watched him leave. Her lips pressed tightly against further words. His scene at her office that afternoon had nearly cost her a three hundred dollar commission. The Cabrillos couldn't afford to lose that.

She waited a moment to fortify her spirit against the coming family conference. John Raskthorne, alone, signified a potential fiancé. For a moment she toyed with the thought of leaning against his sturdy shoulder, of letting the family lean against his equally sturdy financial backing. Then she straightened. She couldn't. They had already gained credit on the rumors that she would marry him. She didn't know to what lengths they would go if she became Mrs. Raskthorne.

Stormy Rebellion
STILL feeling the need to lean upon something safe, she looked about the sunroom. Not a square inch of the jade- and -scarlet leather furniture was paid for. A net shop was threatening to carry the macaws and marmosets back to their store cages. They'd miss the freedom of the luxuriant tropical foliage, also threatened with return.

Why couldn't the Cabrillos realize that lineage would not pay bills?

Well, she might as well get it over. The brags, John and her mother, carried a financial disaster. Along with his mother, Raskthorne had inherited the role of administrator of the Cabrillo estate.

The heavy rugs caught and smothered Constance's footers. She stepped into the long un- seen, and for a little while tell in love and married the last of the old Don's grandsons. Mickey went on to his just reward without a son to inherit, so the daughter married and the land was back in the hands of the Cabrillos.

Rattling Of Skeletons
"THE daughter, Budget, had inherited her father's shrewdness, but she didn't pass it on, and by the time father's older brothers, her sons got a rough selling hand to help her eyes like human beings. They were only two thousand acres left for Dad."

"I was six when he died, so I didn't really know him, but from what I understand he was cracked on the subject of land. He had the place homesteaded so no one could't mortgage it, and that land couldn't be sold until Constance was twenty-one, and never in her full permission."

"Constance," she said, "I have to depend upon Constance for my money. She has a bank vault instead of a heart."

Constance gripped the arms of the chair. So that's what they thought of her. She'd known, but she'd never heard them speak openly, she'd never dreamed they would tell anyone outside of the family. Would she ever date marry John now, without him thinking she was marrying him for his money?

"You're wrong, Donna," Raskthorne said seriously. "If it were money alone, Constance would marry for it. She won't. It's something deeper than money."

Constance felt she could not bear to listen to his defense, so she knew that she refused so persistently.

"An eavesdropper," she quoted lightly, crossing the room, "never hears good of herself. Would you mind being as frank with a member of your family as you have with a friend, and tell me what causes this rattling of skeletons?"

There was a moment of startled silence, then Raskthorne jumped to hold a chair for her.

In that moment Constance hated him; hated him for the pity in his eyes; for the smooth assurance of his gestures; for his very sturdiness, the squared features, the silver line on his temples which blocked his brown hair into a cap, his grey eyes with their short, thick shade of lashes.

"They are not like you, Conchita," he called. "They concede that I am a member of the family."

Constance flashed him a white-lipped smile. "They are inclined to accept everything good as their own," she said. "Now please, there was talk of a sale and my consent being necessary. May I hear about it?"

Don and Donna sought to speak at once. At twenty-one they were confident of their right to riches by grace of being a Cabrillo; as Constance at twenty-four was confident all rights and riches must be earned by individual effort.

watched the group gathered about the hearth fire.

As always, her stormy rebellion calmed at the sight of her mother's fragile, golden beauty. She might scoff at his untiring effort to cling to youth, but underneath her scoffing lay a deep compassion. It made her forgive her father for dissipating the estate during his brief life with Nadine.

Rebellion surged back as Constance looked at her younger brother Don, sprawled on a rug, his hair yellow against the white fur, his black Cabrillo eyes moody.

Donna, his twin, and pure Cabrillo, was a chic vision in black and scarlet, though a rather tense vision as she sat on an ottoman, hands clasped tightly about her knees.

"You're crazy if you think Connie will sell," Don was saying. "That girl's shrewd. She'll hang on until the rest of us starve to death, so she can have it for herself."

"Don, dear," protested Mrs. Cabrillo, gently. "Conchita is not shrewd, she is modern."

"Modern, my eye," snapped Donna. "My beloved sister is what's commonly called a throwback. Don't look so shocked, mother. Rask has ancestors he doesn't brag about. As long as he's so intent upon marrying Connie, he might as well know we have a Shanty Irishman in our ancestral wood-pile."

Constance slipped into a chair. She might as well eavesdrop. If there were a sale involved, she'd never tell it to her face.

"I don't feel you are justified in saying your great-grandfather Michael was shanty."

"Oh, mother-er," groaned Don. "You can't squeeze any blue blood out of a moniker like Mickey Mahoney."

"This is the set-up, Rask. One day, in a careless mood, a King of Spain had an underservicer scratch some words on parchment, granting a wad of land in what is now known as California to the first of the Cabrillos; that is, of our branch of them; I understand there are others."

"This land and our branch petered out until, when Mickey Mahoney came over from Ireland during the California gold rush, there were only forty-five thousand acres left."

"Mickey wheedled the current Don into selling him all of this, excepting the ranch proper, for some thirty-five hundred dollars in gold."

"Mickey acquired a Scotch wife and they acquired a daughter who fell in love and married the last of the old Don's grandsons. Mickey went on to his just reward without a son to inherit, so the daughter inherited and the land was back in the hands of the Cabrillos.

The only way to find out the truth was to eavesdrop, Constance decided.

Rattling Of Skeletons

THE daughter, Bridget, had inherited her father's shrewdness, but she didn't pass it on, and by the time father's older brothers, her sons, got through selling land to keep themselves like human beings, there were only two thousand acres left for Dad.

"I was six when he died, so I didn't really know him, but from what I understand, he was cracked on the subject of land. He had the place homesteaded so mother couldn't mortgage it, and left that fool proviso in his will that it couldn't be sold until Constance was twenty-one, and never without her full permission."

"Consequently, we three have to depend upon Connie's decision, and meanwhile we live like church mice."

Donna leaned forward. "You see how important it is, Rask, don't you?"

Raskthorne's voice, smooth, slightly whimsical, was heard for the first time. "It looks to me as though your father had gauged Connie's business ability at a very early age."

"Rot," snorted Don. "It wasn't that, it was her gift of gab. He was crazy about her. He'd have given her the moon if she'd put up a sales talk."

"That girl is a throwback. She's Mickey Mahoney done over in skirts. Why else would she be working? Going out on the job every morning as though she belonged to a laboring man. It's a disgrace."

"It isn't just the desire to work," Donna put in, acidly. "It's money. She has a bank vault instead of a heart."

Constance gripped the arms of the chair. So that is what they thought of her. She'd known, but she'd never heard them speak openly; she'd never dreamed they would tell anyone outside of the family. Would she ever dare marry John now, without him thinking she was marrying him for his money?

"You're wrong, Donna," Raskthorne said seriously. "If it were money alone, Constance would marry for it. She won't. I know. It's something deeper than money."

Constance felt she could not bear to listen to his defense, to know that he knew why she refused so persistently.

"An eavesdropper," she quoted lightly, crossing the room, "never hears good of herself. Would you mind being as frank with a member of your family as you have with a friend, and tell me what causes this rattling of skeletons?"

There was a moment of startled silence, then Raskthorne jumped to hold a chair for her.

In that moment Constance hated him; hated him for the pity in his eyes; for the smooth assurance of his gestures; for his very sturdiness, the squared features, the silver line on his temples which blocked his brown hair into a cap, his grey eyes with their short, thick shade of lashes.

"They are not like you, Conchita," he chided. "They concede that I am a member of the family."

Constance flashed him a white-lipped smile. "They are inclined to accept everything good as their own," she said. "Now please, there was talk of a sale and my consent being necessary. May I hear about it?"

Don and Donna sought to speak at once. At twenty-one they were confident of their right to riches by grace of being a Cabrillo; as Constance at twenty-four was confident all rights and riches must be earned by individual effort.

ISABELLE M. SHANLY

Mrs. Isabelle Morrow Shanly, widow of John Shanly, died at her home at 208 Commonwealth avenue, Buffalo, N. Y., on August 10, after an illness of several years. She was born in 1859, in Limestone township, Warren county, the daughter of Robert and Sarah Morrow, whose families were pioneer settlers of Pennsylvania.

In 1880 she married John Shanly, who, at the close of the Civil War in which he served, was attracted to the vicinity of Tidoute by the oil excitement and engaged in that industry until 1911, when the family moved to Buffalo.

Spencer Scott Wins Hambletonian

Although the number of Warren people playing tennis is smaller this summer than a year ago, the more enthusiastic followers of the game are determined that there shall be a tournament. Consequently, the tournament players are being rounded up and by next Monday it will be definitely known how many will compete. Such familiar names as Dr. Yerg, Frank Irvine, "Jap" Conroy, Don Mervine, Larry Amy and Dick Ross will again be found in the lineup. It is possible that at least two dozen will be entered. And by the way, when you're looking over the list of entries, don't pass up the name of Conroy without giving him a second thought. There's a youngster who shows as much natural ability as anyone we've seen. He has taken the measure of Dr. Yerg several times this summer and promises to be a real threat in tournament play.

More bowling alleys are in prospect for Warren, but they aren't to be public alleys. The new drives are being contemplated by the local Moose lodge and the location is to be the second floor of the Pickett Hardware tinshop building, according to reports. While no official announcement has been made, we understand that an archway is to be built from the rear of the Moose building to the Pickett building. Four alleys are expected to be installed, according to reports. Installation of the alleys is expected to add much to the activity at the Moose Club, as it has to the two other local clubs which have alleys, the Conewango Club and the Elks. We haven't heard anything lately concerning the opening of new public alleys, plans of one group of local enthusiasts having been definitely sidetracked.

Only five pitchers in the major leagues appear likely to win 20 games during the current season, on the basis of present records. Last year there were four in each league who hit the mark—Bob Feller of Cleveland, Red Ruffing of the Yankees, Dutch Leonard of Washington and Buck Newsom of Detroit in the American League; Curt Davis of the St. Louis Cardinals, Luke Hamlin of Brooklyn, and Bucky Walters of Cleveland in the National. Current pace-setters are Cleveland's Feller, who already has hit the 20-game mark; Al Milnar, also of Cleveland; Newsom, of Detroit; Derringer and Walters of Cincinnati. Milnar and Newsom have 14 wins apiece, while Derringer and Walters have 16. If any others get over the hump before the end of the season, they will have to really get "hot" during the balance of the campaign.

Here and There: We've just learned that Yerg and McClure took the measure of Amy and Rice in that tennis battle of the century Wednesday afternoon. The scores, we're told, were 7-5, 7-5, 6-4. Latest reports are that our sports editor survived the ordeal, but that Monty had to be carried from the court on a stretcher and is still trying to get his breath. Ray Malone, up from Oil City to attend the Elks picnic on Wednesday, reports that city all pepped up over its Penn State Association ball club. We're told that members of the National Forge team were all burned up when they arrived in Chautauqua Wednesday afternoon for a ball game and found there had been a schedule mix-up. They'll go back on Saturday, however, and this time they're assured of opposition.

PLANS FOR NET TOURNAMENT GOING FORWARD HERE

Plans are going forward for the annual Warren County Tennis Tournament and entries will be received to and including next Monday, it was announced today.

Several of the county's leading players already have signified their desire for such a tourney and by Monday it is expected that a full bracket will be enrolled.

Among those planning to enter the tournament are Dr. A. F. Yerg, Frank Irvine, Don Mervine, Larry Amy, Monty McClure, Dick Ross, Harry "Jap" Conroy and several State Hospital players.

A person desiring to enter the tournament should call the Times-Mirror sports department by Monday, it was stated.

WIFE INSPIRES SAM SNEAD TO IMPROVE GAME

Toronto, Aug. 16.—(P)—The "golf wives" around the circuit have often said that as soon as slummy Sammy Sneed got himself married and settled down, he'd probably start winning all the tournaments.

The mates of the other pros had it all figured out that the Shawnee-on-Deleware (Pa.) shotmaker needed an admiring wife around to keep him from blowing up on the course every now and then.

And from the way Sammy started out with a four-under-par 67 in the Canadian Open yesterday, it seems the golf wives had something there.

Sammy was married last Monday and brought his honeymoon here to take in the open. He got off to just a fair start in the tourney yesterday, turning the first nine in 36. Then he found the range and blazed home in 31, as his bride followed him around in the gallery.

And now Sammy agrees with the consensus of the galleries that he has a good chance to regain the title he won in 1938 and did not defend last year.

"If this putter of mine stays hot," he announced after yesterday's round as he got in some extra work on the practice green, "I can keep right on shooting in the 60's. If it cools off—that's the end of that. Yes, sir. This is the baby that tells the tale."

As he stepped up for the second round today, he had a one-stroke lead on his nearest rival, Stan Horne, Montreal star, and if things keep on going as they have, it looks like the United States performers are going to have things pretty much their own way as usual.

WARREN JUNIORS WIN OVER KINZUA OUTFIT

Errors kept Dick Kifer from a perfect game in the county junior league yesterday as the Warren team defeated Kinzua 8-2. Kifer allowed no hits, but his teammates committed three errors that permitted Kinzua to score. Triples by Kifer and Jim Urbanski sparked the local attack.

In other games played this week, Sheffield defeated Stoneham, 7-1, and Warren won over Tiona, 8-2. The final five-game series between Sheffield and Warren for the league championship will be played next week. It is hoped that some of these games may be played in the evening so the public can see them.

PIRATE CATCHER ON WAY TO PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, Aug. 16.—(P)—Al Lopez, the catcher who sparked the first division drive of the Pirates, was enroute here from St. Louis today, ordered to take a lay-off of at least 10 days to recover from a painful injury to his throwing hand. Cleveland-Detroit Series Was Hottest of Year, So Slapnicka Moves It From Modern Stadium to Dilapidated Park and Turns Thousands Away

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

It could happen only in Cleveland, the Indians of which city are the only outfit in professional baseball with two parks to be used to the best advantage.

After playing all its big and Sunday and holiday games in the $2,500,000 lakefront Municipal Stadium, with a capacity of more than 70,000, the Cleveland management took the two-game series with Detroit, the hottest of the year, to old League Park, where no more than 20,000 can be accommodated.

Cyril C. Slapnicka's plan was, of course, to give the Tribe a bulge in the direction of a 290-foot right field fence, while handicapping the Tigers, whose power is preponderantly right-handed.

The scheme worked all right, as far as the result of the first game was concerned. Hal Trosky, Beau Bell and Roy Weatherly were credited with home runs over their favorite target on balls which would have been caught easily in the symmetrical stadium.

BUT the switch was unnecessary with the fabulous Bob Feller and Mel Harder pitching, and Detroit's Big Three caught out of turn. Slapnicka only outsmarted the club out of some 40,000 paid admissions.

He also succeeded in getting thousands more mad at him, which comes close to making it unanimous.

Slapnicka, who has a faculty for doing the wrong thing at the right time, was the only person associated with or interested in the American League who underestimated the drawing power of the series.

Here were the Indians returning from a road trip and battling the Tigers, with whom they were tied for the league lead.

Feller, the greatest individual attraction in the business, was to pitch.

SO Slapnicka moved the show from a modern stadium, which the city practically gives the club and where there would be room for all, to a dilapidated orchard, where thousands were turned away, turned away and turned away, but who stayed to mutter and wonder why the games couldn't be played downtown in comfort.

It was bad enough the first day, but even with this warning, Slapnicka brought 'em back the following afternoon to do the whole sily act over again.

As one Detroit official, badly shortchanged, remarked, some blokes never learn.

But, it seems, Cyril C. Slapnicka simply has to mastermind. Perhaps he was saving wear and tear on the stadium, figuring that Cleveland will have a good team again next year and will need it.

UNIQUE GOLF MATCH SLATED FOR SUNDAY

A unique golf match will be staged at Westfield, N. Y., Sunday afternoon when four outstanding players will tee off at the junction of routes 20 and 17 in Westfield and play up route 17 two and one-half miles to the Gorge Golf Course. The players will go up mountains, through streams, woods, valleys and the village.

The match is scheduled to start at 12:30 p. m.

Those who will take part in the match are E. N. Skinner, an amateur, and M. C. Cameron, Bemus Khan $160,000 for the horse.

BAHRAM IS COMING WITH $160,000 TAG
Saraloga Springs—A syndicate headed by Alfred Vanderbilt, Walter Chrysler, Jr., and Sylvester LaBrot, will import Bahram, one of the greatest horses ever to run in England, to stand as a stock horse in Maryland.

Bahram, a son of Blandford, by Friar Marcus, won the English triple crown in 1935 and was undefeated in five starts. The syndicate reportedly will pay the Aga Khan $160,000 for the horse.

BY BILL WHITE
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Dodgers are putting on some sort of celebration for old Freddie Fitzsimmons tonight, but no one feels like celebrating.

The Dodgers, a month ago, with Ducky Medwick in the outfield and Pee Wee Reese at shortstop, felt they were a positive shoe-in for the pennant.

Now Medwick is hardly hitting the size of his collar, the Dodgers are in second place and Reese is en route to Louisville, victim of a broken bone in his left heel which will probably keep him out the rest of the season.

So with the loss of yesterday's game 4-2, to the Phils, and the loss of their star shortstop, who fractured his foot while sliding into second in the seventh inning, the horrible spectacle of third or even fourth place faces them.

While the Dodgers were losing all their dreams, the league-leading Cincinnati Reds were simply losing a ball game, 1-0 to the Chicago Cubs, whose Claude Passeau twirled a five hit job. Paul Derringer likewise hurled a five-hitter.

In the National League's only other offering, Lefty Joe Sullivan of the Boston Bees blanked the Giants for eight innings in a superb four hit relief job, while his mates were walloping three Giant pitchers for a 12-1 victory and a sweep of the series.

The Yankees made the third metropolitan "out" of the day by absorbing an 11-1 shellacking at the hands of the Boston Red Sox. The Sox slugged out 14 hits off four Yankee twirlers to win one game of the series, snap the Yank victory streak at six games and break their own four game losing run.

The leading Cleveland Indians pounded southpaw Thornton Lee for 15 hits, but couldn't bunch them and barely nosed out the White Sox 5-4. The Indians again had Roy Weatherly to thank for the winning run when Lou Bourdrea followed with a double.

Buck Newsom had a field day in leading the Tigers to a 5-2 win over the Browns. He pitched six hit ball and doubled in the sixth to put his mates ahead. The Athletics ganged up on Walter Masterson of the Senators in the eighth inning for four runs and a 6-5 decision in the second game of a doubleheader. Skinny Sidney Hudson scattered 14 hits to win the opener, 9-4.

The Dodgers, incidentally had company along baseball's wailing wall, for the Pittsburgh Pirates found themselves without the services of Al Lopez, their sparkling catcher, who split his bare hand in a game at St. Louis Wednesday night. He'll be out about two weeks.

Four alleys are to be installed, according to reports. Installation of the alleys is expected to add much to the activity at the Moose Club, as it has to the two other local clubs which have alleys, the Conewago Club and the Elks. We haven't heard anything lately concerning the opening of new public alleys, plans of one group of local enthusiasts having been definitely sidetracked.

Only five pitchers in the major leagues appear likely to win 20 games during the current season, on the basis of present records. Last year there were four in each league who hit the mark—Bob Feller of Cleveland, Red Ruffing of the Yankees, Dutch Leonard of Washington and Buck Newsom of Detroit in the American League; Curt Davis of the St. Louis Cardinals, Luke Hamlin of Brooklyn, and Bucky Walters and Paul Derringer of Cincinnati in the National. Current pace-setters are Cleveland's Feller, who already has hit the 20-game mark; Al Milnar, also of Cleveland; Newsom, of Detroit; Derringer and Walters of Cincinnati. Milnar and Newsom have 14 wins apiece, while Derringer and Walters have 16. If any others get over the hump before the end of the season, they will have to really get "hot" during the balance of the campaign.

Here and There: We've just learned that Yerg and McClure took the measure of Amy and Rice in that tennis battle of the century Wednesday afternoon. The scores, we're told, were 7-5, 7-5, 6-4. Latest reports are that our sports editor survived the ordeal, but that Monty had to be carried from the court on a stretcher and is still trying to get his breath. Ray Malone, up from Oil City to attend the Elks picnic on Wednesday, reports that city all pepped up over its Penn State Association ball club. We're told that members of the National Forge team were all burned up when they arrived in Chautauqua Wednesday afternoon for a ball game and found there had been a schedule mix-up. They'll get back on Saturday, however, and this time they're assured of opposition.

Sports Round-up

By EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, Aug. 16.—(P)—News: Reason for Larry MacPhail's recent jaunt to Puerto Rico was to arrange for the Brooks to thaw out there next year. Tad Wieman, Princeton coach, told Rocky Mountain pals his Tigers will be strictly an "if" team. Florida is making a real effort to jam a bill through the legislature creating a state boxing commission. Game on the upgrade down there now with galleries of 5,000 turning out for Tampa shows. Veteran Red Sox stars commented on the latest Ted Williams episode. Consensus: Theodore is just a big spoiled boy. Spencer Scott, the Hambletonian winner, was just about given up on as a cripple during his two-year-old days.

Time Marches On

Since July 7 the crack pacer, William Cash, has been in the east waiting for the Goshen meetings. They had him all primed for the $1,000 arrowpoint, Wednesday.

When time came to declare for the race, Owner L. C. Sprague of Minneapolis, was at the track watching his horses work. He had his watch set on central time and so missed the deadline by an hour. Result is William Cash, given the best chance of beating the nine-straight-start, Fearless Peter, couldn't start.

And Get Paid For It

Ollie Haupt, Jr., St. Louis figure skating star, is turning pro to become Sonja Honey's partner in the winter ice carnivals. William Gargan, the Brooklyn-born movie star, came 3,000 miles from Hollywood to see his old friend, Freddie Fitzsimmons, honored by Dodger fans tonight. Walter St. Denis, the demon press agent, and Mike Jacobs have split again, this time for keeps. Freddy Corcoran, the P. G. A. tourney manager, thinks Sammy Sneed's marriage will be the making of him—just the stabilizer he needs, says Freddy. Wisconsin's football squad of 50 will be the smallest numerically in the Big 10.

Today's Guest Star

Frank B. Ward, Youngstown (O.) Vindicator: "Jack Dempsey says he might fight a few fourth raters. . . . Well, that takes in all of them except Joe Louis."

They'll Get Diplomas

The birdies say two American Association umpires—Ernie Stewart and Hal Weaver—will be promoted to the National League next season. A new Ethics Field club is being formed, with a mile-long petition urging Joe Medwick to lay off that first pitch. The Detroit News refers to Maurice (The Angel) Tillet as the "grotesquery from a Singapore bar." Lou Nova, training for a comeback, now is up to 210 and pich-

Prospective Coach Of Jackets Coming

Members of the Warren Red Jackets board of directors reported today that the prospective coach for the coming season, whose name has been withheld pending completion of negotiations, will come to Warren on Sunday to discuss terms. A telegram was received from him today, assuring the board he would be on hand.

While the name of the young man was not revealed, it was stated today that he played five years of big league professional football after finishing at Duquesne, where he gained All-American rating. He was with Pittsburgh Pirates two years and with the Cleveland Rams three years. His home is in New Castle, it was stated.

OPEN CHAMPION HERE TOMORROW FOR EXHIBITION

Tomorrow afternoon at the Conewago Valley Country Club, Lawson Little, Jr., United States Open golf champion, will appear in an exhibition match which is expected to attract golfers from the entire section.

Little is playing several exhibitions in this district, coming here from Kane, where he appears today.

The open champ will be matched with H. D. Hubbs against Harold Smith, local professional, and Chuck Eberhardt in tomorrow's match, an 18-hole exhibition.

The match is scheduled to start about two o'clock, preceded by an exhibition of all kinds of shots. Use of the various clubs in the golfer's bag will be demonstrated.

Tomorrow's match is open to the public, as well as to the members of the Conewago Valley Country Club.

It is planned to have Little as a guest at dinner tomorrow evening. He will leave by train tomorrow night for New York.

SHIPP-KILGUS REACH TOURNEY SEMI-FINAL

Eric, Aug. 16.—(P)—Dick Shipp of Harrisburg and Ed Kilgus, University of Pennsylvania star, whipped the second-seeded team of Byron Baur, Eric, and Harry Zink, Steubenville, O., 5-7, 6-3, 7-5 to reach the doubles semi-finals of the Great Lakes tennis tournament yesterday. In the semi-final they face Bill Maul and Tom North of Detroit.

Among those gaining semi-final berths in the women's singles was Lucy Masterson of Rochester, Pa., who eliminated Mrs. H. Cox of Sharon, 4-6, 6-2, 6-2.

PLANS FOR NET TOURNAMENT GOING FORWARD HERE

Plans are going forward for the annual Warren County Tennis Tournament and entries will be received to and including next Monday, it was announced today.

Several of the county's leading players already have signified their desire for such a tourney and by Monday it is expected that a full bracket will be enrolled.

Among those planning to enter the tournament are Dr. A. F. Yerg, Frank Irvine, Don Mervine, Larry Amy, Monty McClure, Dick Ross, Harry "Jap" Conroy and several State Hospital players.

A person desiring to enter the tournament should call the Times-Mirror sports department by Monday, it was stated.

WIFE INSPIRES SAM SNEAD TO IMPROVE GAME

Toronto, Aug. 16.—(P)—The "golf wives" around the circuit have often said that as soon as slamin' Sammy Sneed got himself married and settled down, he'd probably start winning all the tournaments.

The mates of the other pros had it all figured out that the Shawnee-on-Delaware (Pa.) shotmaker needed an admiring wife around to keep him from blowing up on the course every now and then.

And from the way Sammy started out with a four-under-par 67 in the Canadian Open yesterday, it seems the golf wives had something there.

Sammy was married last Monday and brought his honeymoon here to take in the open. He got off to a just fair start in the tourney yesterday, turning the first nine in 36. Then he found the range and blazed home in 31, as his bride followed him around in the gallery.

And now Sammy agrees with the consensus of the galleryites that he has a good chance to regain the title he won in 1935 and did not defend last year.

"If this putter of mine stays hot," he announced after yesterday's round as he got in some extra work on the practice green, "I can keep right on shooting in the 60's. If it cools off—that's the end of that. Yes, sir. This is the baby that tells the tale."

As he stepped up for the second round today, he had a one-stroke lead on his nearest rival, Stan Horne, Montreal star, and if things keep on going as they have, it looks like the United States performers are going to have things pretty much their own way as usual.

WARREN JUNIORS WIN OVER KINZUA OUTFIT

Errors kept Dick Kifer from a perfect game in the county junior league yesterday as the Warren team defeated Kinzua at Kinzua, 9-2. Kifer allowed no hits, but his teammates committed three errors that permitted Kinzua to score. Triples by Kifer and Jim Urbanski sparked the local attack.

In other games played this week, Sheffield defeated Tionia, 7-1, and Warren won over Tionia, 8-2.

The final five-game series between Sheffield and Warren for the league championship will be played next week. It is hoped that some of these games may be played in the evening so the public can see them.

PIRATE CATCHER ON WAY TO PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, Aug. 16.—(P)—Al Lopez, the catcher who sparked the first division drive of the Pirates, was enroute here from St. Louis today, ordered to take a lay-off of at least 10 days to recover from a painful injury to his throwing hand. Eight stitches were taken in the cut caused by a foul tip from Don Padgett's bat in the Pirates-Cards game Wednesday night.

Grayson's SCOREBOARD

Cleveland-Detroit Series Was Hottest of Year, So Slapnicka Moves It From Modern Stadium to Dilapidated Park and Turns Thousands Away

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

It could happen only in Cleveland, the Indians of which city are the only outfit in professional baseball with two parks to be used to the best advantage.

After playing all its big and Sunday and holiday games in the $2,500,000 lakefront Municipal Stadium, with a capacity of more than 70,000, the Cleveland management took the two-game series with Detroit, the hottest of the year, to old League Park, where no more than 20,000 can be accommodated.

Cyril C. Slapnicka's plan was, of course, to give the Tribe a bulge in the direction of a 290-foot right field fence, while handicapping the Tigers, whose power is preponderantly right-handed. The scheme worked all right, as far as the result of the first game was concerned. Hal Trosky, Beau Bell and Roy Weatherly were credited with home runs over their favorite target on balls which would have been caught easily in the symmetrical stadium.

BUT the switch was unnecessary with the fabulous Bob Feller and Mel Harder pitching, and Detroit's Big Three caught out of turn. Slapnicka only outsourced the club out of some 40,000 paid admissions. He also succeeded in getting thousands more mad at him, which comes close to making it unanimous.

Slapnicka, who has a faculty for doing

Willkie Resting at Rushville Before Acceptance Ceremonies

stood, Mrs. Willkie sat at his side, waved to friends whom she recognized, and turned now and then to someone called out, "hello, Edith."

They passed underneath a big banner saying, "Rush County Presents Wendell L. Willkie." They then turned off to a side street to stop at the home of Mrs. Willkie's mother, Mrs. Cora Willkie. She came to the front porch to greet her daughter and son-in-law and stood with them while Willkie waved goodnight to a yard full of neighbors.

PRESIDENT TO BE BUSY

Washington, Aug. 16.—(P)—President Roosevelt told reporters today that he imagined he would not hear Wendell Willkie's acceptance speech on the radio tomorrow afternoon.

Asked at his press conference whether he would hear the address of the Republican presidential candidate, he said he imagined not because he would be with the troops tomorrow from the moment he arrived at Ogdensburg, N. Y., to witness maneuvers of the First Army. The president is leaving Washington tonight.

Lizzie Barber, Mrs. Willkie's negro cook, had been keeping some fried chicken warm for the guests since dinner time. After a brief visit, Mr. and Mrs. Willkie went on to the home of Miss Mary Sleeth to spend the night. Miss Sleeth manages Willkie's farms.

Willkie made no engagements for today. A special train will take him, his wife, their son, Philip, and other relatives to Elwood tomorrow.

There the nominee will speak briefly from the steps of the high school building before going on to Callaway Park for his half hour's acceptance speech.

Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts, GOP national chairman, will notify him of his nomination. Willkie's address, which will be broadcast nationally (NBC CBS and MBS), will start shortly after 3 p. m. (central standard time).

Willkie had not announced his immediate plans following the acceptance program, except for short talk in Rushville Monday.

Philadelphians, Aug. 16.—(P)—A delegation of Republicans from Philadelphia and vicinity will leave today for Elwood, Ind., to hear Wendell L. Willkie, Republican presidential nominee, deliver his acceptance speech.

New Jobs Found For 100,000

the future re-training of displaced workers, and for vocational education."

Jobs were found "at a maximum expense of $1 each," the report stated.

The report observed that when the job mobilization campaign started, Pennsylvania had paid out more than $1,700,000,000 for relief needs since 1931. In the autumn of 1939, more than a million people—a tenth of the total population—were out of work, and the direct relief rolls alone cost more than $8,800,000 a month in state taxes.

The committee recommended creation of a state employment council to coordinate efforts of the departments of Commerce, Labor and Industry, Public Assistance and Public Instruction in training an adequate supply of skilled labor.

It urged that from three to six of the 14 state teachers colleges be converted into junior vocational colleges, "because of an over-supply of teachers," or that one or two-year advanced technical training courses be set up in all the colleges.

The committee also recommended the establishment of a junior employment service to direct school graduates into jobs; that more apprentice training schools be opened in private industry; and that a complete study be made of the relief rolls to determine how many "employables" might be "re-habilitated for employment."

Another proposal was that the General State Authority and Work Projects Administration cooperate "in building and financing new vocational school buildings where the need exists."

Husband Denies Being Involved in Fake Holdup

No charge was filed against him.

Orndorf said two sisters living in a neighboring town admitted posing as male robbers and shooting Mrs. Headley five times as she and her husband returned to their Pine Bank home from their farm at Wana, Va., Tuesday night.

The sisters, Mrs. Otis Cumberland, 36, and Mrs. Elizabeth Pettit, 25, both of Nettie Hill, were held in the county jail on charges of aggravated assault and battery with intent to kill. For the present the deputy declined to make public their statements and to reveal the motive and certain other phases of the strange case.

Mrs. Headley, in critical condition from loss of blood and shock, was given "about a 50-50 chance of recovering," an attendant at Green County Memorial hospital said. She was wounded in the chest, abdomen and jaw.

A doctor said peritonitis developed from the wounds. Mrs. Headley underwent a two-hour operation Wednesday, a surgeon mending 14 puncture wounds of the intestines.

The finding of two masks and two suits of men's clothing on a road not far from the Headley home led to the arrest of the sisters. Orndorf said that yesterday they re-enacted their flight from the scene of the shooting, and police recovered a .22-caliber revolver and a toy pistol used in the "fake" holdup.

SEC. WALLACE HANDS IN HIS RESIGNATION

Washington, Aug. 16.—(P)—The resignation of Secretary Wallace, Democratic vice presidential nominee, created the second prospective cabinet vacancy in 10 days and reduced to three the remaining members of President Roosevelt's original 10 departmental heads.

Wallace's resignation, handed to the chief executive yesterday, is expected to be effective Aug. 29, the date the secretary of agriculture will accept the vice presidential nomination at Des Moines, Iowa.

Postmaster General Farley's resignation, submitted Aug. 7, is to be effective Aug. 31.

PREACHER KILLED, SIX TOTS HURT IN CRASH

York, Aug. 16.—(P)—The Rev. Robert L. Gill, 27, of Westfield, N. J., was killed and six children injured, one seriously, in an automobile-train accident at a crossing three miles west of York today.

Mr. Gill was counselor at a boys' summer camp at Fayetteville. The children all were from the camp.

The sedan in which they were riding was hit by a freight train at the West Maryland railroad crossing on the Lincoln highway 100 yards from the York boys' home.

Gill was killed instantly.

There are about 4,500,000 persons in federal, state and local government service in the U. S.
